Subject: Do NOT settle with MS

It is NOT in the best interests of AGAIN believing that MS will want to abide by any of the terms, which BTW are not strick enough of this proposed settlement. On top of it, letting MS give 'billion' dollars of software, which is mostly defective and part of the problem to begin with really, to schools to get the kids 'hooked' on MS products. That is rediculous, as it is like giving a crack seller a punishment for a CRIME (that is what MS has committed, clearly) of selling crack, the OPEN DOOR to the kids and sell them all the crack they want or think they should be allowed because they don't know any better. MS should be forced to admit publically they are criminals, that they have forced mediocre and defective products to customers and charged them a premium for it. If MS was in the auto industry, they would have recalled EVERY single product that they ever produced. MS is bad, very bad for America, and the DOJ should NOT be afraid to tie this thing up more and EFFECTIVELY spend more money on burying Bill and his scammers in legal headaches for YEARS. In the end, like ATT they will likely rule again, but for 10-20 years from now at least consumers would have the ability to choose. Right now they do not, and letting them into the school system will effectively kill any chances of Apple or others to compete. You are out of your fucking minds! Just a concerned, pissed off tax paying consumer. Get your acts together, and do the RIGHT thing, not the chicken things.
